And Oklahoma Sure Has I to Talk About.

For Root Growth-Condition Generally Superb.

Guthrie, O. T., March 2.-The month of January afforded most favorable weather conditions for the growth of wheat. The continued moderately cool nights and excess in cloudiness caused slow growth and good root devlopment of the plant. Wheat is generally reported in good condition and affording excellent pasturage in many places to the stock. Below is given a summary of winter wheat conditions throughout the two territories as reported to C. M. Strong, of the United States weather bureau at Oklahoma City: Ardmore-"Wheat looks fine; out sowing commenced; land in good condition; plowing in general progress; good prospact for truit,"-G. H. Bratcher.

Arapahoe-"Reports from all parts of Custer county indicate winter wheat in prime condition,"-Geo, Hardenbrook, Fort Reno-"Wheat is in very fair fondition. The cold spap has done more good than harm."-J. J. Thorne.
